Assessment Methodology

* The evaluation and the marks is entrusted to a team of instructors who deal with the training. This team of instructors assesses the level of progressive learning of each individual student, through an evaluation system based on e-learning courses.

- 1 | Pre-test

It is a written test composed of 30 questions, which serves instructors and teachers to understand the degree of preparation of the student before starting the course;

- 2 | Initial test

The student will have to pass the Initial-test, during the first phase of each course. It is a test consisting of about 20 questions, which must be completed in 20 minutes. This is for teachers to understand if the first phase of the course has been completely learned by the student. This test is evaluative, and a score of 0 to 100 is awarded;

- 3 | Final test

It is the final test, a series of 20 questions that must be completed by the student in 30 minutes. Together with the evaluations from previous tests, they represent the final evaluation exam for the eligibility to receive the diploma, because it is able to put into practice what has been learned during the course. This test is evaluative, and a score of 0 to 100 is awarded.

* The student is assessed overall, both from the individual and group point of view.

Certificate

Upon completion of the STAM course, students that successfully passed the final test with a final score of 70% or higher are, are issued with a certificate as a test of attendance, required as part of the registration process in the dedicated sectors.
